

GOLF SWING PRACTICE APPARATUS AND ASSOCIATED METHOD

Abstract Of The Disclosure

5 A golf swing practice apparatus comprises a playing surface for a golfer to thereon practice a swing, and a reflector positioned adjacent the playing surface, the reflector comprising a curved reflecting surface adapted for focusing a reflection of a golf ball so as to produce an image of the golf ball appearing adjacent the playing 10 surface for a golfer to swing a golf club therethrough.
An associated method of the invention comprises reflecting the image of a golf ball from a curved reflecting surface to form an image of the golf ball adjacent the reflecting surface, and swinging a golf club through the image of the 15 golf ball to thereby practice the golf swing.
